Dedication

We
the students of Notre Dame
High School
proudly dedicate
this,
our second yearbook,
to Pope John XXIII, who represents the spirit of a new era of life in the Roman Catholic Church.
During the short period of his reign on the Papal throne,
he has succeeded in guiding the Church into a new period of vigor
and growth.
Because of this,
we feel he embodies the inspiration for the theme of this publication.
May we of Notre Dame
fulfill his hopes for a bright Catholic future through our own private growth and development as Christian women.

THEME

It has been said that education is a continual growth, a gradual progression toward an infinite goal.
Using such a figure,
we, the editors of Sa Route, have imagined the day by day changes in the outline
of our two new buildings as representing the growth of the individual student.
As the building
took form and proportion, so our students were forming their own mental and spiritual proportions
with each phase
of student life at Notre Dame.

FOREWORD

With twenty-five cents and unfaltering trust in God, two Belgian missionary Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur arrived in San Jose in 1851. In response to the urgent pleas of Peter Burnett, first governor of California, and the needs of the newly-formed community, they decided to remain and to open a school for girls. This feeble beginning soon grew into the historic Notre Dame Academy on West Santa Clara Street. The organization of a school for young ladies in a frontier town situated in what was then the wild, uncultivated West, required all the optimism and dedication, which the Sisters so generously gave to their task.

External changes —

Now we are living in a new era.
The one-year-old city into which the first sisters arrived has grown into a thriving metropolis, changed both in size
and in appearance.
Like San Jose,
Notre Dame, too, has undergone
a change.
With the removal of the college and novitiate
from West
Santa Clara Street,
the old O'Connor mansion, located on Second and Reed, became the new site of Notre Dame
High School.
But even in the midst of all this change,
the spirit
of Blessed Mother Julia which animated
the first sisters
has continued throughout the years;
and,
embodied in the educational ideals of Blessed Julie,
continues to produce young Catholic women, who are intelligent,

cultured,
healthy,
vocationally-prepared,
socially-minded,

As civilization progresses, and the importance of mathematics and science grows, we find Notre Dame adapting its curriculum to the ideas of modern times.

Daily the ever-expanding Department of Science and Mathematics teaches its students the processes of laboratory research and of mathematical calculation.

In the field of laboratory arts, Notre Dame offers to its students Physics, General Science, Biology and Chemistry.

As the curriculum stands now, only Algebra I and II and Geometry are offered. But the popular trend toward higher mathematical education requires more subjects in this field. For this reason Notre Dame will be adding Trigonometry and Advanced Mathematics to the list for the fall semester.

Application of Surprised Sophomores received unexpected award for unusual citizenship toward school.

From Tschaikovsky to Cicero, to the complexities of the business world, Notre Dame girls wage the eternal battle of the books. The seven hours between 8 and 3 are crammed with declensions, formulas, participles, and irregular verbs, and sometimes it seems as if the world would have been better off without iambic pentameter. Eventually though, somewhere between Shakespeare and World War I, the threads of learning begin to weave themselves into a pattern for the future, and a goal is set, struggled for, and accomplished.

What is a foundation?

Webster:

Foundation: Ground

basis of anything.

Just as a foundation is the groundwork of a building

so too—the

FACULTY

is the groundwork

of the students'

academic life.

In order that a building withstand

the elements of nature—

wind,

rain,

it must be established

on a sound

foundation.

Likewise a sound faculty will help to prepare the students to withstand the storms of

SISTER MARGARET DOLORES — PRINCIPAL

For four years, Sister Margaret Dolores, as our principal, has carried the heavy burden of administrative responsibilities. During this time Sister has supervised most of the school activities, aided teachers, parents, and pupils in many ways and has always made herself available to anyone who needed help. Aside from her duties as principal, she has also found time to direct the Senior Chorale Group. This summer she will attend Stanford University on a Stanford grant in English.

WHO LEAD

SISTER MARY WILMA—VICE-PRINCIPAL

To all who see her, Sister Mary Wilma appears to be care-free and always smiling; but, behind this gay exterior, Sister's mind is forever working out the daily problems which arise marked ——— Vice Principal. Keeping the running and permanent records up to date, serving as curriculum chairman, and adjusting class programs are small parts of the Vice-Principal's job.

SISTER PAULINE MARIE—DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

During the nine months Sister Pauline Marie has spent at Notre Dame as Director of Guidance, she has emphasized the importance of individual counseling for each student, and has enlarged the group guidance program.

As senior class co-ordinator, Sister's quiet manner and reassuring way won for her the love and respect of the Seniors as well as that of the lower classmen.

SISTER MARY OF THE NATIVITY—DEAN OF GIRLS

As Dean of Discipline, Sister Mary of the Nativity's smiling face lessened the terror of the students when they found contact with her necessary. As school disciplinarian, Sister was overseer of all detention study halls and her firm hand guided the members of Senior Control in keeping order in the school. Her duties also included readmitting absent or tardy students, granting various permits, and supervising all disciplinary measures.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

at Notre Dame

mainstay student body.

Our student body

Suzanne Imbornone, Student Body President for the school year 1958-59 led the students of Notre Dame in the following of the 3-C's—courtesy, culture, and citizenship. In view of her numerous activities, it is all the more to her credit that Suzanne has maintained one of the top scholastic averages of the school. The job of Student Body President is a hard one. The girl who fills it must put self into the background—for she must think of her school first. She must be poised, efficient and able to lead the student body at all times. Suzanne has filled this office and in so doing has won the respect of both the faculty and the students.

Suzanne Imbornone—A. S. B. President

leaders . . . admired, trusted and respected.

Barbara Baggese
Public Relations Representative

The newly-created office of Public Relations Representative was ably filled by Barbara Baggese. Her duties consisted of writing articles about Notre Dame activities for the "Limelight" in the Monitor and for "Teen Talk" in the San Jose Mercury-News, and also of selecting participants for "Record Hop."

Barbara Baggese

Ann Hill
Secretary

The job of Student Body Secretary for the school year 1958-59 was held by Ann Hill. Keeping an accurate and detailed account of Student Body and Student Council meetings was Ann's main responsibility. Her other duties included the handling of all business and inter-school correspondence.

Lori Lucchetti
Treasurer

Keeping the school budget balanced and approving all school expenditures was the job of Treasurer efficiently handled by Lori Lucchetti.

Student Council

The governing body of Notre Dame Student Body, the Student Council, acts as a liaison between the faculty and the students. The job of the Council is to make all necessary decisions in relation to Student Body activities. It consists of all Student Body officers, one home-room representative, and the president of each class, and it is under the moderation of Sister Margaret Dolores.

This year Student Council introduced a new office, Public Relations Representative; it rewrote the school Constitution and compiled a student handbook.

Setting high the banner of fair play and good sportsmanship at Notre Dame, Loreene Pardini, as Student Body Athletic Manager, organized school teams and arranged all inter-school and intramural games for the year 1958-59. Her undying spirit and loyalty to the Blue and White were incentive to all her team members to go out and win.

Loreene Pardini—Athletic Manager

The beginning

With the motto of "Service and Spirit" behind them, the Rally Committee, under the direction of Mary Anne Wright, and with the help of its moderator, Mrs. Collins, organizes rallies, decorates for inter-school games, and supervises the hospitality for these games. The membership this year totaled approximately five hundred girls with two girls from each homeroom as members of the Executive Rally Committee.

Because the Committee has grown too large, it has been abolished and a new Spirit Club has been formed in its place. The new club will be limited to a membership of one hundred girls to be chosen on a point system. The elected officers will be president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

As Vice-President of the Student Body, Mary Anne Wright was the chairman of all social affairs. Dances and inter-school games were her main concern but activities relating to other school functions also kept her extremely busy. The reorganization of the Rally Committee into the Spirit Club was her biggest undertaking, which she accomplished with the able assistance of Mrs. Collins.

Mary Anne's high spirit and tireless enthusiasm promoted an undying loyalty in the students at all games and rallies.

Inter-club Council

A new organization known as the Inter-Club Council was formed this year to co-ordinate and evaluate all student organizations. With Miss Francisconi's help, this council, composed of the officers of all functioning clubs at Notre Dame, took an active part in accepting the Spirit Club as a substitute for the Rally Committee.

Senior Control

In its second year of organization, Senior Control has officially taken over the duty of establishing and enforcing school regulations. Under the direction of Student Body Parliamentarian Georgia Somers and Dean of Discipline, Sister Mary of the Nativity, this select group of seniors maintains order at all times, and works diligently to uphold the reputation of Notre Dame.

and guide the student body.

As Student Body Parliamentarian, Georgia Somers was chairman of Senior Control and overseer of all Student Body elections. Working industriously with her committee she revised the school constitution and brought about many changes in the procedure of Student Body elections. Another of her many jobs was to keep all Student Body and Student Council meetings running according to parliamentary procedure.

The Crown and Shield, Notre Dame's quarterly paper, has been in publication for 31 years. This year, under the able direction of Mrs. Patterson, the staff showed its devotion to hard work by winning the Second Place Honor Rating from the National Scholastic Press Association for the first semester.

In order to raise money for the final edition of the paper the Crown and Shield staff donned theatrical costumes and performed Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" for the student body and friends.

"Nothing stops the yearbook!" As the deadline crept slowly upon the Sa Route staff, this cry could be heard from every corner of the room. Typewriters beat an un-ending click-clack, pencils raced across copy sheets, layout pages were checked and re-checked. Notre Dame's second annual, financed this year by a Patron and Patroness Drive, went to press with a completed 169 pages. The staff folded up their equipment and crept away for another year.

"And I beheld, and I heard a voice of many angels" All who have heard the Notre Dame Senior Chorale almost believe they are hearing angels too.

Throughout the year, the chorale group, under the direction of Sister Margaret Dolores, has played an important part in many school functions. The Christmas Cantata, the Mothers' Guild Installation, and Graduation were three major events to which they lent their talents.

In a world of mushroom clouds and radioactive dust—filled with the "isms" arising from materialism—there stands apart from the conflict and discord, the privation and hardship—a fortress of peace and purity—Our Lady, Queen of the Universe. To her is our sodality dedicated.

Under its moderator, Sister Catherine Marie, the school sodality is divided into smaller groups, each with its own assistant moderators.

Striving above all for personal sanctity, the sodalists also do apostolic work.

Winds of gale force buffeted San Jose players as they arrived at Mora High School, Watsonville, for the final game of the season. From the outset it was obvious that the match would be "touch and blow." Serves that were aimed directly for the opposite court suddenly swerved and landed elsewhere; spiking was no more than a wish for lack of a steady net; and even in the rallies the quick gusts mocked any attempt to demonstrate skill. This unique display of the elements was climaxed by the triumph of the San Jose team, thus ending the season with a record of two wins and one loss.

Wind-driven ball eludes reach of players in classic Mora game.

AS SEASON UNFOLDS . . .

The historic dignity of Mission Dolores contrasted sharply with the exuberance of 150 N.D.S.J. girls who assembled at Notre Dame, San Francisco on November first to view the opening games of the volleyball league. The varsity players, captained by Loretta Pardini, and aided by the power-packed serves of Letha Loba, ushered in the season by scoring a 26-18 victory over the Bulldogs.

This win was offset on November eighth when the age-old rivalry between San Jose and Belmont was renewed as the teams met on Belmont's court. Loretta Pardini headed the varsity squad, which hoped to return the crushing defeat they suffered at the hands of the Tigers in the 1957 season. The outlook for a San Jose victory was bleak as the half-time score showed the Gremlins trailing by 8 points. But the team unleashed its fighting spirit and edged up to tie the score in the final minutes of play. Nevertheless, Belmont gained control of the ball and scored twice to win 27-25.

THEN SUDDENLY . . . THE SUN COMES OUT

A weak start marked the opening of Junior Varsity volleyball season for 1958, as San Francisco gained the upper hand over the Gremlin team and dealt out a first defeat for their unsettled adversaries. The San Jose cause was shaken by the loss of captain Lynne Teirnan; who was unable to continue in the game because of injury.

Determined to make short work of rivals of long standing, the J. V. squad resolutely vied with the ever-powerful Belmont team. After a heartening beginning, the hard-fighting Gremlins went down to a two point defeat under the relentless drive of the Tigers.

Compensation for these two setbacks was granted as a crippling defeat was delivered to the Holy Cross Crusaders, and the Gremlins retained court supremacy by successfully downing the wind battered Mora team.

St. Elizabeth's balcony echoes with cheers of N.D. spectators.

Surrounded by rivals, N.D. Gremlin leaps to get a rebound.

BASKETBALL—AND TIGERS CAST DARK SHADOWS OVER GREMLINS

Steady, skilled, sure.

The shrill blast of the final whistle touched off wild rejoicing as the scoreboard showed a victory for the San Jose Gremlins over St. Elizabeth's in Oakland. This triumph was of unusual significance, as the coach of St. Elizabeth's team, Miss Ganare, had spent the previous two years as head of the Physical Education Department at Notre Dame. St. Elizabeth's tight defense nearly proved fatal for the varsity forwards, but the diligent hours of practice paid off in the final victory.

Bolstered by the success of their first attempt, Gremlins confidently faced the San Francisco Bulldogs. In a fast moving game with many ties, the outcome was uncertain until the final moments, when a series of skillfully-executed plays placed the Bulldogs in front and gave them the game.

Enthusiastic preparations for the Belmont game transformed the yard and injected an air of anticipation throughout the school. The traditionally hard-fought game, with edge-of-the bench excitement, was climaxed by Belmont's victory. This signified the close of basketball season and also the termination of all major sports activities for the year.

Lofty leap for Judy Bell in S.F. Game.

.....BUT THEY WON'T SAY QUIT

Propelled by the force of enthusiasm shown in volleyball season, the J.V.'s braced themselves for their upcoming cage opponents. For the first time in Notre Dame's basketball schedule the teams traveled to Oakland for a possible perennial opponent. Paced by an aggressive offense, but bogged down by lack of an adequate defense, the St. Elizabeth's team bowed before the barrage of shots effected by Notre Dame J.V. girls.

Caught firmly in the jaws of the San Francisco Bulldogs' crushing counter-attack, the J.V.'s were severely battered in the first half. They then revived, set a pace calculated to discourage the most spirited attack, but inconsistent in their drives, the young J.V.'s suffered their first defeat.

Jinxed for many years by the potent Belmont basketballers, the Notre Dame six posted their first victory over their junior hoop counterparts. The Tigers, always on the prowl, harassed the Gremlins with their full court press and timely long shots. But zeroing in on the Tiger defense and slipping through for spur-of-the-moment shots, the Gremlins toppled their arch rivals in a game ending Belmont basketball supremacy.

"Grant that by the same spirit we may be truly wise . . ."

The annual Mass of the Holy Spirit was celebrated in Saint Joseph's Church on September 12, 1959, to secure an abundance of graces for the new scholastic year.

We, of Notre Dame, realize the enormity of the task that lies before us; and it is for this reason that the entire student body gathers to offer the Holy Sacrifice for a truly successful year, both spiritually and academically.

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, after a hectic day of buying books and straightening out programs, relax in the company of new friends and old at the Starlight Supper.

community endeavors

Just as the theme suggests, "November Nonsense," the first student body dance of the year 1958-1959, provided a carefree, lighthearted evening for all who attended.

Nearly 350 couples danced while listening to the music of "The Saints" from Campbell, who helped to make this dressy sport dance the huge success that it was.

Within the spacious interior of the Exposition Building at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, the novel decorations (hula-hoops and balloons) made a perfect setting for the highlight of the evening—a hula-hoop contest.

On January 3, 1959, Notre Dame girls donned blue and white banners and confidently set out to collect money for the March of Dimes.

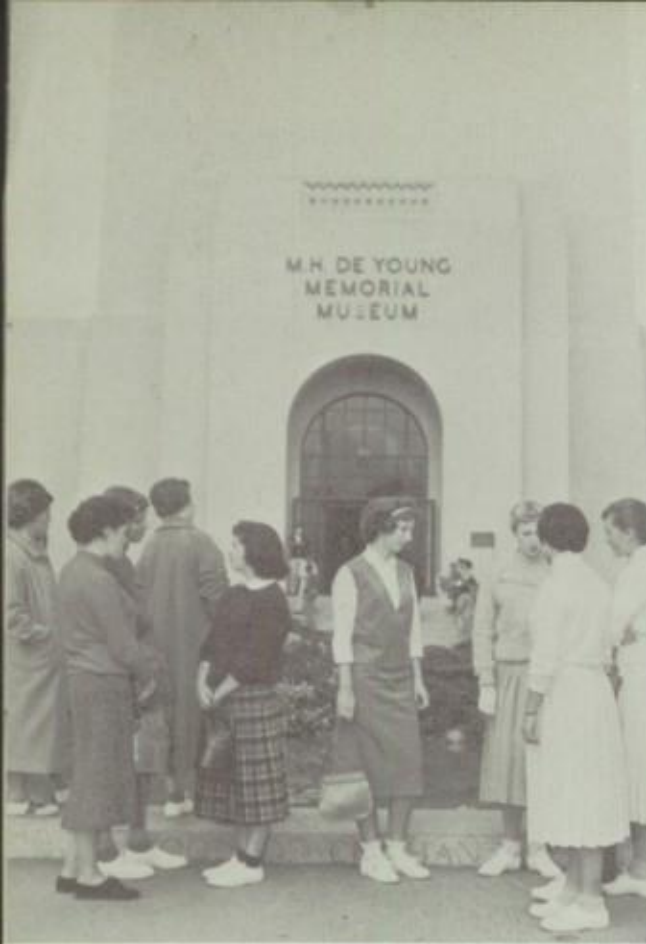

After the girls had collected and counted the money themselves, they were given a luncheon at the Sainte Claire Hotel; but their real reward was the success of the "Teens Against Polio" campaign in which they had participated.

The whole-hearted support given by Notre Dame to this drive resulted in well over a thousand dollars in donations which topped all other San Jose area schools.

YOUNG ENTHUSIASM

FOR THE ARTS

One of San Francisco's contributions to the culture of Notre Dame students this year was an exhibit of the famous Vincent Van Gogh Collection at DeYoung Museum. On November 1, en route to a game with Notre Dame, San Francisco, the eager girls willingly paused to view the works of the renowned painter.

Puccini's opera, La Bohème, drew an enthusiastic crowd of NDites when it played in San Francisco on October 16. Everyone, from the novice to the seasoned opera goer, agreed that it had been an especially enjoyable day.

Over 150 members of the Notre Dame Student Body attended the Solemn High Requiem Mass, celebrated for the repose of the soul of the late Pope Pius XII on October 16, 1959.

The San Francisco Civic Auditorium was filled to capacity with the Catholic hierarchy, members of various religious orders, and students representing Catholic schools throughout the Bay Area.

Bishop Mervin Guilfoyle echoed in his sermon the great respect and high esteem felt by the children of his Church when he declared to the congregation, "Truly, this was a Man."

CHRISTMAS FADES

Winter Dreamland titled the theme of Notre Dame High School's annual Christmas dance this year. On the evening of December 13, 1958 at St. Clare's Parish Hall, over two hundred couples danced in a world of blue and silver to the music of the "Softones." This year's Christmas dance proved to be one of the most enjoyable and successful affairs of the year.

Representatives from Notre Dame High School appeared on KNTV, Channel 11's teen dance program, "Record Hop," the evening of January 15, 1959 at 6:00 p.m. The entire program was dedicated to Notre Dame, with members of the student body and their escorts dancing to popular records and student body officers predicting future school activities.

Notre Dame was the first school asked to appear on the program and has been commended for its assistance in setting high standards of dress and conduct.

INTO NEW YEAR ACTIVITIES

The Federation is an organization of Catholic high schools. The general purpose of the Federation is to encourage young people to discuss and work out solutions for the pressing problems of modern youth. This Year's topic was Maturity—a Response to Challenge.

Meetings are conducted in forum style and are held bimonthly. An average of 50 students from Notre Dame High School attended these meetings, and one-hundred or more attended the regional confederation held in San Francisco.

The Cotton Ball is the last Student Body dance of the year, and the one at which the freshman class is formally introduced into the social life at Notre Dame High School.

This year the Cotton Ball was held April 3, 1959, in the Exposition Building at the Fairgrounds, and the "Soft Tones" played while Notre Dame students danced from eight until eleven o'clock.

The student body voted to follow a Cinderella theme, and outstanding effects were achieved by the use of a large castle, replicas of fairy tale characters, and a small pool with surrounding garden.

Stopping in the midst of the bustle of daily events, Notre Dame took time once more to honor and thank the foundress of the Notre Dame order, Blessed Mother Julie. The entire student body attended a Mass dedicated especially to her, for it was through the efforts of Blessed Julie that Notre Dame lives today.

GAIETY GIVES WAY TO CULTURE

Notre Dame students traveled to San Francisco on the afternoon of April 17, 1959, to hear the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra at the War Memorial Opera House.

The girls were privileged to hear, also, guest artist Arturo Rubinstein as he played with the orchestra the Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 2 in B Flat Major by Johannes Brahms.

...and SILENCE

The annual Freshman-Sophomore and Junior-Senior Retreats are spiritual highlights of the year at Notre Dame High School. Given this year on March 18, 19, and 20 and April 7, 8, and 9, the Retreats were conducted by Father Richard Twomey, S.J., and Father Lester, C.S.S.R., respectively. During these three days each student is given ample time to reflect on her spiritual growth during the past year, and to grow closer to God through prayer and the Sacraments.

PAINTED FACES, WHEELS OF FORTUNE... CARNIVAL DAY

Photographed by Diane Torley

A festive spirit prevailed on campus, May 13, as Notre Dame held its annual spring carnival. Colleen O'Kane, who was elected Miss Notre Dame of 1959, presided as queen of this gala affair. Fulfilling her role with regal dignity, she proclaimed the carnival officially open at 11:30. Colorful booths, designed and managed by the students under the direction of the faculty, were gay attractions to our own students as well as to those from the neighboring grammar schools. Previously, the proceeds from the carnival had been sent to our Holy Father for the missions, but in more recent years, this money has been added to the Notre Dame building fund.

"O Mary, we crown thee with blossoms today . . ."

Led by the seniors, wearing caps and gowns, the entire student body walked in solemn procession on May 29, to honor Our Lady Queen of the May.

With rosaries in their hands, and the murmur of Hail Marys on their lips, Notre Dame girls filed into Saint Mary's Church to receive Our Lord's blessing.

After leaving the church, the solemn company processed to Julie Billiard Hall, where Suzanne Imbornone, attended by Junior Class officers and candidates for student body offices, crowned Our Blessed Mother with a wreath of fern and pink roses.

Julie Billiard Hall was flooded with charming melodies on the evening of May 14, when the music department presented its recital. Due largely to the untiring efforts of Sister Loyola Marie, the evening of music was a most enjoyable affair.

Those who performed were: Louise DeLiso, Mary C. Connelly, Deanna Dorsa, Mary Zohn, Linda Normandin, Joyce Jaca, Elizabeth Bedard, Joann Castagnola, Ann Schirle, Joan Schirle, Lydia Garcia, Elizabeth Mattucci.

This year Notre Dame High School was proud to receive in formal reception at Julie Billart Hall on June 3, 1959, Reverend Mother Josepha de Ste. Francoise, Superior General of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur.

Student Body officers, as well as representatives of St. Joseph's and St. Mary's grammar schools, presented her with tokens of appreciation and esteem for the dedicated guidance she provides for her religious order from her Mother House in Rome.

In turn, Mother General graciously presented each student with a small gift in commemoration of her visit to Notre Dame High School in San Jose.

STUDENT BODY ELECTIONS

A whirl of activity, a collage of posters, a host of slogans . . . and student body elections began.

Candidates and their campaign managers could be seen all over the campus, balancing on rickety ladders and hoarding the scanty supply of masking tape, while stretching on tip toe in order to stay the uppermost corner of a twelve inch poster or twenty-four foot sign.

An election board, headed by Elizabeth Bedard, kept close watch on all campaign procedures, approving candidates' posters and limiting them to a five-dollar maximum expense account.

SUSPENSE and WAITING . . . UPSETS and SURPRISES

Tension soared to a high pitch as campaign speeches were given and voting began; but the climax of the week's anxiety was not reached until the final results were announced by Sister Margaret Dolores.

Those elected to fill the various offices were:

AT LAST! THE FULFILLMENT OF A JUNIOR'S DREAM . . . THE JUNIOR PROM.

Whirling, swirling, twirling; the thousand and one dreams of the Junior Prom met reality in "One Enchanted Evening." The perfect setting was the ballroom of the Palo Alto Elks Club and the "Cloud Nine" music was provided by Naish Renello. The simple, but beautiful, decorations lent a sophisticated charm to the atmosphere. The climax of the entire night came when Mr. Sanfilippo, president of the Dads' Club, crowned Miss Jackie Lazara Junior Prom Queen. Jackie was presented with a bouquet of red roses, after which she and her escort led the traditional coronation waltz.

BUSINESS STUDENTS

TURN EYES TOWARD THE COMING YEAR.

The dawning of their Junior year is a time of decision for many girls, as they must make up their minds whether to continue the regular academic course, or to take up business. Those who decide on business join Sister Reginald, to learn the mysteries of shorthand and the secret of typing 60 words a minute. Those who are successful are eligible for special awards.

CLASS OFFICERS 1958 — '59

The class officials play an important part in the functioning of the class. The presidents, senior, Joanne Gargone, junior, Faye Beechie, sophomore, Nada Joy Selich, and freshman, Mary Castro, preside over class meetings, represent the classes in Student Council, and take care of all important class business. Acting as social directors of their classes, Diana Nishiura, Lynette Rodriques, Carol Trombatore, and Joan Thomas are mistresses of ceremonies when their respective classes present entertainment for the Student Body meetings. The secretary records the minutes of the class meetings. These girls, Judy Todd, Carmen Woods, Joan Gabriele, and Jeanne Bristow also take care of all class correspondence. Bonnie Juster, Antonia Livak, Lynn Tiernan, and Carol Ann Paradiso collect dues, pay bills, and keep an accurate account of class expenditures. Managing the class teams, athletic managers, Loretta Pardini, Mary Waters, Doreen LaRosa, and Gail Ferreira also promoted class spirit. The historian takes pictures of class activities and records them in a scrapbook. The girls who represent this office are Colleen Mirassou, Laurie Meusel, and Judie Kayser. The new role of parliamentarian has been added to the offices of the class this year. The freshman class is the first to have this office, which is filled by Eleanor Elrod.

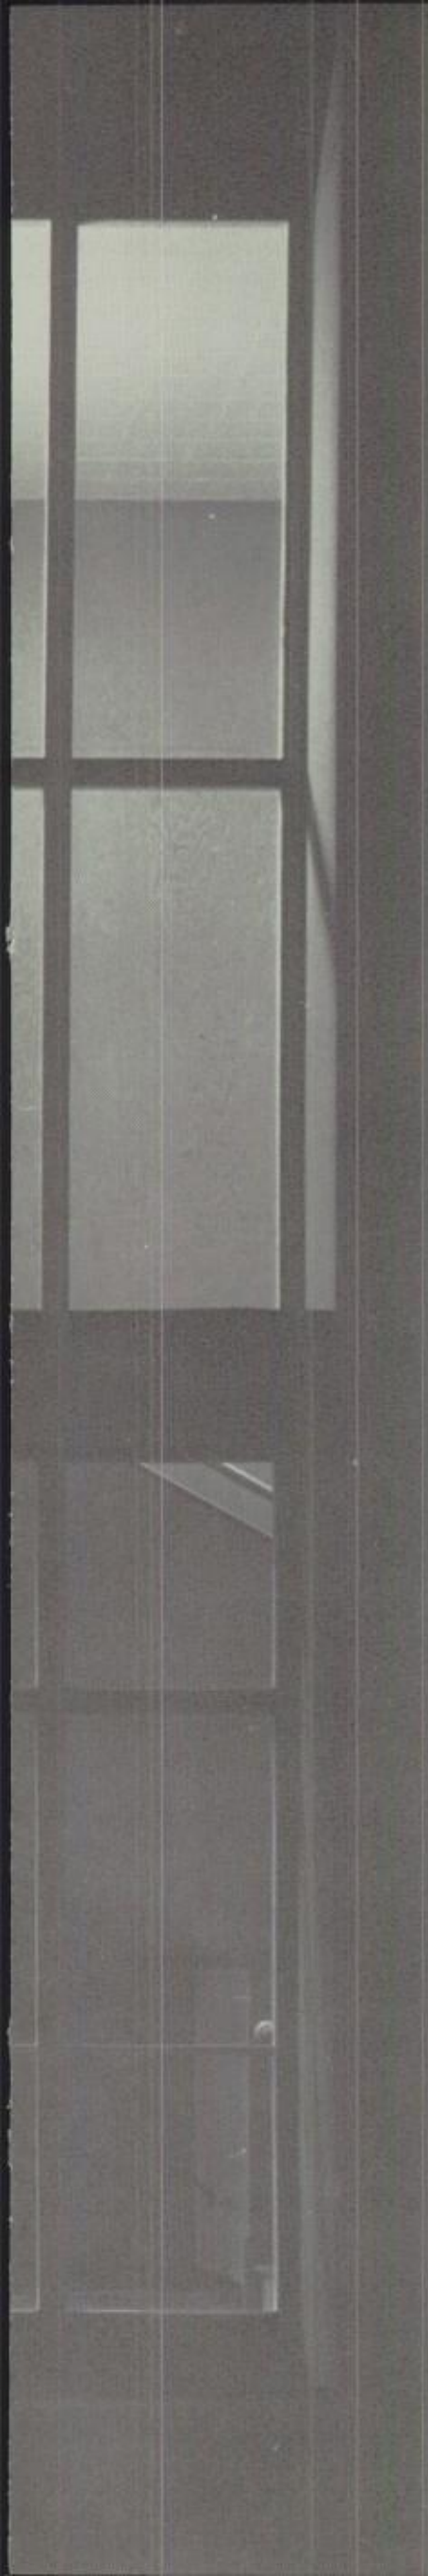

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—President—Joann Gargone; Vice-President—Diana Nishiura; Secretary—Judy Todd; Treasurer—Bonnie Juster; Athletic Mgr.—Loretta Pardini; Historian—Colleen Mirassou.

Always willing to help were the Alumnae Association, pictured at Homecoming, May 24, and our parents, pictured at the Dad's Club Barbecue, May 16.

We are grateful for the help these

Both Mr. Peter Kocian, foreman for Pardini Construction Company, and Sister Clare Marie, our past Superior, have been instrumental in the completion of our new plant. Sister, credited with the original planning, returned on Homecoming to see the fulfillment of her work. "Pete" was known to all of us for his ready and willing service.

All these people have faithfully served our school. Mr. Gerret van Beckhuizen and Jim Thompson were custodians the past year, while Mrs. Gladys Tufts, our cook, has been with us eleven years. We hope the modern conveniences of our new buildings will lighten their tasks and the pleasant surroundings will make their jobs more enjoyable.

These are our patrons and patronesses.

We
the editors and staff of Sa Route would like to express our appreciation to the following persons for their outstanding aid to us in completing this yearbook . . .

to Sister Margaret Dolores and Sister Pauline Marie
for correcting and proofreading
our copy at many an odd hour and especially for their cheerful encouragement during our darkest hours

to Nancy Free, editor,
for her unselfish service tireless efforts
inexhaustible patience and energy for her loyalty devotion and dedication to Sa Route

to Mr. Myers, our publisher for benefiting us
with his vast experience and expert advice which proved to be invaluable

to Mr. Angelo Butera of Butera Studio
and Parr Photo Service
for making available to us their professional skill and outstanding photography service
and . . .

especially to Sister Monica Julie for successfully coping with scatter-brained editors illiterate copy writers unheeding photographers half-witted staff members and the general disorder dishevelment untidiness discord

confusion jumble insanity turmoil pandemonium racket uproar din

and for always being gentle mild
good-humored cordial gracious amiable tactful genial patient obliging calm

when she should have been annoyed discouraged thwarted perplexed irked disturbed vexed angry weary sleepy exhausted fatigued drowsy drooping tired

and special gratitude is offered for her guidance thoughtfulness understanding artistic genius

and for her success in making Sa Route
so much more than a prosaic publication
by giving it
the warmth of personal interest.

Dear Pat,
I'm not going to write a long speech
but God Bless You!
Au Revoir!
Carole Stodzienki

Dear Pat,
It's really been nice knowing you this past year.
Love Children

Dear Pat,
Good luck in the future years at N.D. especially at all the social functions. God Bless
You. Love Carolyn

Dear Pat,

Dear Pat,
These years at N.D.
have been fun for me but I hope you have twice as much fun!
Enjoy yourself!
C.H.

Dear Pat
Good luck always in your coming years at N.D. Keep studying your French and you might get A's. If we only could.

God Bless
You Always

Dear Pat,
It has been wonderful knowing you these past few years. I hope we will always be good friends.
Good luck in the years to come.

As always,
Paula Gerlick

Pat, Good Luck in your coming years.
Say as nice and friendly as you are and never change.
Love ya,
Jackie

Dear Pat, God keep Bless you & keep you always as you are.
Love,
Barbara Baggese

Pat,
Good Luck
in all you do + stay as nice as you are,
Love

Safilippo

Dear Pat,

Well here we are together, in section D (10-5-10) this year. I know we will have as much fun (and unusual experiences) this year as we did last year. I hope you and Joe will always stay together - I really think friend during our years at Notre Dame - that is if we last that long - ^(only 3 more years of homework) French and Biology permitting. Always be as nice and understanding as you are now, God Bless You Always
Love Ya - Barb
Luck in French.
